RESEARCH INTERESTS

My research focuses on the early identification of and intervention for students with or at risk for reading disabilities. I am particularly interested in examining the long-term effect of reading instruction and the factors associated with the persistence and fadeout of instructional effects using meta-analytic approaches. I also investigate how assessment and measurement approaches (e.g., classification accuracy, reader profiles, and eye-tracking-based measures) inform educational decision-making.

EDUCATION

2023-present	Ph.D. Student, Texas A&M University Major: Special Education
2020-2023	Ph.D. Student, Texas A&M University Major: Bilingual Education In 2023, I transferred to the Special Education program.
2012-2014	M.Ed., Texas A&M University Major: Bilingual Education
2008-2012	B.A., Anqing Normal University, China Major: English Education

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

2023-present	Graduate Researcher, Texas A&M University Advisor: Dr. Florina Erbeli • Lead meta-analytic research on the long-term effects of reading instruction and contribute to work on the persistence of intervention effects. • Apply statistical methods (e.g., robust variance estimation, meta-regression) to multiple research initiatives. • Lead manuscript preparation and conference submissions. • Lead project management, study design, and data collection and curation. • Collaborate with and provide guidance to junior lab members on research tasks and project workflows.
--------------	---

- 2023-present Graduate Researcher, Texas A&M University
Neurobiological Lab for Learning and Development (NLD)
Advisor: Dr. Steven Woltering
- Design and implement studies using eye-tracking methods to examine cognitive processes underlying reading and reading difficulties.
 - Contribute to experimental design, data collection, and data analysis.
 - Contribute to conference proposal preparation and dissemination of research findings.
- 2021-2023 Graduate Research Assistant, Texas A&M University
Center for Research and Development in Dual Language and Literacy Acquisition (CRDLLA)
Advisors: Dr. Rafael Lara-Alecio, Dr. Beverly Irby, Dr. Fuhui Tong
- Applied statistical methods (e.g., confirmatory factor analysis) to multiple large-scale research projects on bilingual education and literacy-infused science instruction.
 - Contributed to preparation of grant reports and grant applications.
 - Supported project coordination and teacher professional development.
 - Led preparation and submission of a conference proposal.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

- 2023-present Graduate Assistant and Teaching Assistant
Texas A&M University
- 2020-2021 Lecturer
University of Science and Technology of China, China
- 2016-2020 Program Coordinator, Academic Coach
Xinhua Education Group Limited, China
- 2014-2016 General Education Teacher
Kindergarten, Madison Elementary, ISD 742, St Cloud, MN
- 2012-2014 Chinese Enrichment Program Teacher
Fourth Grade, Johnson Elementary, Bryan ISD, Bryan, TX
- 2011-2021 Program Coordinator, Teacher (Part-time)
Lead Learner Educational and Technology Group, China
